Summer Raves & Review

A huge thank you to all the many volunteers who helped with fundraisers and social events over the summer and to the many who help keep the Hall well-oiled and the gardens blooming. There are too many to list but we know who you are and our hats are off to you.

- The After School party in the park was a great success again this year (there seemed to be as many adults as kids and it continues to be a fun social tradition to kick off the summer!)
- The Hall hosted the Brampton Cycling Club's luncheon adding a tidy $300 to our coffers and garnering raves about the hall and the community.
- Lee Wisener and her amazing crew catered the Writers' Festival Authors

Dinner raising ~$2500 for the Community Club. The authors continue to rave about the excellent meal, marvel at the mixture of young and old working along side each other, and sing the praises of our community. It's a true community event with dozens of volunteers pitching in. This year the Club also made ~$300 selling coffee at the Festival and $25 was generously donated by our young face painters.

- Our Village became a little more beautiful, thanks to members of the Garden Club for rebuilding the box around the Welcome to Eden Mills sign, and to Wally Mayes for the makeover to the bench in front of the Hall.
